As President of the jury of this second edition of the Diversity Awards Lëtzebuerg, I want to congratulate the organisations that applied and I thank them for their daily commitment to diversity.

The nominated practices which are described in this booklet are only an example of all the existing practices in public and private as well as in non-profit organisations.

I am proud of this enthusiasm and I thank all the participating organisations for their rallying.

I wish you a nice discovery and I hope that you will be inspired for your future diversity management approach.

DIVERSITY AWARDS LËTZEBUERG 2017

SECOND EDITION

This 11th May 2017, the Diversity Awards Lëtzebuerg reward the best practices in terms of diversity management within organisations in Luxembourg.

This event, organised by IMS Luxembourg in the context of the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg, celebrates the promotion of diversity. It is also a unique opportunity for all organisations to get inspired, every two years, by diversity management practices.

In the presence of Mrs Corinne Cahen, Minister for Family and Integration and Patron of the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg, this second edition of the Diversity Awards Lëtzebuerg highlights the increasing commitment of private, public and associative organisations in this field.

Best practices regarding diversity are awarded in the following categories:

1. Recruitment, Welcome and Integration
2. Career Management
3. Environment and Wellbeing at work
4. Communication and Values of the organisation

This year, 21 applications were analysed according to objective indicators by the pre-jury and the jury.

PRESENTATION OF THE PRE-JURY AND THE JURY

THE PRE-JURY

On March 15th 2017, the pre-jury, composed of 10 independent experts, choose the nominees for each category.

Evaluation criteria for all the categories are the same as for the 2015 edition, such as: the degree of implementation (10%), the impact (30%), the innovative (10%) and replicable aspect (10%) of the approach, as well as how it is managed (15%) and the long-term integration of the practice (10%).

Organised since 2015, the «Young Women Challenge» aims at understanding the career choices of young student women and attracting them toward audit and consulting positions. Through this contest, students, working in teams of three, had been invited to create a project on gender equality in the audit field.

Beyond integrating young women, this project attracts students from all over Europe, promotes gender balance in the company, deconstructs stereotypes and allows them to discover the audit and consulting sector. Since the start of this project, more than 25 students did an internship at Deloitte and more than five juniors have been hired following their participation in this contest.

The «Internal Management Training Course» is a cycle of 16 days of continuous training spread over 10 months, which is held on the place and time of work to encourage the work/life balance of participants. All employees willing to develop their career can participate, irrespectively of their profession, their hierarchical position or their professional experience.

The objective is to help participants develop their professional skills, promote equal opportunities, communicate better, take advantage of the different managerial cultures present at the CHNP, and also encourage the creativity of participants through the development of an end-of-course project. By encouraging networking, it brings together the different managerial cultures within the organisation to define a managerial culture of its own. Since 2014, 10 managing positions have been replaced.

WORK/LIFE BALANCE

In 2016, teleworking was launched at Société Générale allowing employees to work from home one day a week. This allows them to maintain a good balance between their private and professional lives by reducing the time spent on public transports for cross-border workers. In addition, this initiative can also increase the quality of life at work and encourage more inclusive management practices, based on trust and adapted to everyone's personality.

This new form of work organisation is open to persons with an open-ended contract, whether working full-time or part-time. Today, 62% of positions at Société Générale can benefit from this practice.

FULFILMENT

In 2012, the ADEM created a service exclusively composed of 31 people with disabilities and in an external reclassification situation. In order to integrate this service, the candidates were trained for six months before getting offered a long-term contract.

This training, in cooperation with the CNFPC of Esch-Belval, also allows them to integrate other administrative services of the ADEM. It covers various subjects such as telephone reception or stress and conflict management.

This project shows that, with proper guidance, it is possible to reintegrate vulnerable people as well as to reinforce existing structures with employees of several companies.

« Vis ma vie @ Sodexo » (meaning “Live my life”) is a project for all the company’s employees who can, on a voluntary basis, interchange their functions regardless of their position, seniority, age, gender or hierarchy. At the invitation to participate in this day once a year during the Diversity Day, employees can formulate three choices among more than fifteen suggested positions, as well as a “choose for me” option. This practice has the advantage of breaking stereotypes about certain occupations by allowing employees to discover all the professions in the company.

In 2014, RBC Investor & Treasury Services created its “Diversity Leadership Council” (DLC) composed of leaders, managers and employees of the bank in order to promote the value and the benefits of diversity within the company, to accelerate the cultural change in the organisation and to make diversity move forward.

The initiatives taken by the DLC include for example: speed mentoring for women, the launch of an employee resource group, a partnership with Dress for Success, a training program on diversity as well as debates and panels on the subject, the celebration of the International Women’s Day and the Diversity Day. During these last two years, around 1,000 employees participated in at least one of these initiatives.

LEADERSHIP

The three priorities of this Diversity Leadership Council are: equal professional opportunities for men and women, the importance of active leaders in the diversity field as well as the promotion of a multicultural workforce.

HIGHLIGHTED GOOD PRACTICES

- A MAGAZINE TO RAISE AWARENESS AMONG NEWCOMERS

MOUVEMENT POUR L'ÉGALITÉ DES CHANCES (MEC asbl)

The Mouvement pour l'Égalité des Chances (Movement for Equal Opportunities) has created a trilingual quarterly magazine to facilitate the integration of newcomers. Written in French, English and Arabic, Move Together focuses on the discovery of Luxembourg and its culture. It is distributed in all reception centers in Luxembourg as well as at communal administrations and social welfare offices.

- CREATING A CULTURE OF THINKING

INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL OF LUXEMBOURG

The International School of Luxembourg tends to create a «culture of thinking» by instilling in its young students values such as enquiry, critical thinking, communication, open mindedness, risks-taking, creativity and reflection. This practice affects children from the age of three years old and is part of an initial five-year plan which will be reassessed in 2021.

- ENCOURAGING SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

ONE LIFE

«Train your colleagues» are trainings created and held by employees, for other employees. The aim of these training courses is to share know-how, skills and experience among employees but also to create a long-term collaboration.

- NETWORKING TO INTEGRATE THE YOUTH

ING LUXEMBOURG

The RING association, a career accelerator founded in 2011, aims at promoting the integration of young people in the company. It allows them to interact with other colleagues such as managers and senior managers to share their experience and knowledge. Such exchanges promote the diversity of ages, profiles and cultures.

- LOCAL INTEGRATION ACTIONS AS A PRIORITY

CITY OF ESCH-SUR-ALZETTE

The City of Esch-Sur-Alzette has developed a Communal Integration Plan to strengthen communication between the city and citizens, dialogue between residents, but also to create a willingness from the residents to participate in the implementation of projects in the city.

- MOTIVATION AND COMPETENCES TAKE PREVALENCE OVER EXPERIENCE

SODEXO

To recruit in an objective and non-discriminatory way, Sodexo has set up a Simulation Recruitment Method in partnership with the ADEM and Pôle Emploi. This method focuses on the skills and motivation of the candidates who are invited to carry out several practical tests. This process, which is unprecedented in Luxembourg, has enabled the company to recruit more than 150 candidates since 2012.

- LANGUAGE AS A WAY TO MEET AND SHARE

CITY OF STRASSEN

In February 2017, more than 9,000 people from 107 different nationalities lived in Strassen. Le Café de Babel, a language café animated by citizens for citizens, allows the inhabitants to meet and practice the languages they want to learn or master. This Café encourages the sharing of values and represents a considerable help to the integration of newcomers.

- TRAINING YOUNG TALENTS, A LONG-TERM APPROACH

ING LUXEMBOURG

The ING International Talent Program is a three-year recruitment program that promotes diversity on three levels: gender equality, which is promoted through non-discriminatory CV selection, intercultural mixing, which is represented through the training of young talents by experts as well as cultural diversity, which is supported by the international dimension of this program.

INSPIRING PRACTICES

• A WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT

Christian Scharff
President of the Committee for the Diversity
Charter Lëtzebuerg
President of IMS Luxembourg

Enhancing and managing diversity within an organisation is symbol of a socially responsible company able to attract and retain diverse talents. Many initiatives exist in this context and the Committee for the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg considered it its duty to reiterate the organisation of the Diversity Awards in Luxembourg this year to make the inspiring initiatives in this field visible. We are pleased by the enthusiasm surrounding the Charter and the active participation of its signatories in the implementation of diversity management.

As the President of the Committee for the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg, I can only congratulate all the organisations participating, and more precisely the winners of this edition.

Keep up the good work!

DIVERSITY CHARTER LËTZEBOURG

Created in 2012, the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg is a commitment text which any Luxembourg organisation can sign in order to express its commitment to promote diversity by concrete actions that go beyond legal and regulatory obligations of non-discrimination.

As a national charter, this text brings a common vision of diversity. It contributes, in the Grand Duchy, to the improvement of diversity management and its integration in the broad sense and in every aspects of life.

This year, the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg celebrates its five years, and currently counts 164 signatories, which represent 15% of the active population in Luxembourg.
